

DON'T SHORT-CHANGE THE CHILDREN...

100%

The Government has announced that the target of 80% qualified teachers for teacher-led, centre-based ECE is being put back from 2010 to 2012 and the 100% target appears to have been dropped altogether.

Dear Anne Tolley,

I believe that having qualified teachers is vitally important to ensuring the quality education and care for our babies and young children and call on the Government to recommit to a target of 100% qualified and registered teachers by 2012.
